

SWMO Marine Corps League Detachment 993 Scholarship Opportunity (2024)

Sponsored by the members of SWMO Marine Corps League Detachment 993
$1,000 Scholarship for a Promising Writer on the Topic of Honor, Courage, and Commitment

Scholarship Entry Rules

Only one entry per student will be accepted.

Candidate must be a graduating senior.

Candidate must be applying to a 2- or 4-year college, university, or technical training school.

Candidates should create an original written entry specifically for this scholarship award.

Submission Process

- Complete the scholarship application form; staple to the front of the entry.
- Entries must focus on any theme related to honor, courage, and commitment. May be descriptive and/or issue oriented and may be of any genre.
- Entries will consist of an essay (minimum one page) that should reflect the Marine Corps' core values of honor, courage, and commitment.
- Entries should be double-spaced, 12-point Times New Roman font. (Larger font and/or bold or italicized print may be used in titles, headings, or sparingly as a stylistic tool in the work.) Number all pages and staple.
- Entries must include a statement of originality signed by the student, parent/legal guardian, and a sponsor (teacher, mentor, counselor). The statement of originality may include any information the student chooses; however, the student must include, in student's own handwriting, the following statement: The enclosed writing sample is my original work.
- Submit two copies of the work; each copy should include the scholarship form and the originality statement.

Though it should be submitted in conjunction with LAD Fair entries, this scholarship is not part of the LAD Fair writing competition; an applicant should not use a LAD Fair entry sheet. Use the 2024 SWMO Marine Corps League Detachment 993 Scholarship Application Form.

2024 SWMO Marine Corps League Detachment 993 Scholarship Application

The principles and values instilled in every Marine during Basic Training and through their time in the Marine Corps are the building blocks for making the right decisions at the right time, both on and off the battlefield. In the chaos of war and in the daily tasks of life, character matters. The Marine Corps' core values of honor, courage, and commitment define how all Marines should think, act, and fight. However, at the end of the day, Marines make personal choices about which values and ideals they will truly adopt and live by.

Entries will be an essay (one-page minimum) that should reflect the Marine Corps' core values of honor, courage, and commitment.
